```
mkdir backend ——————— Create backend directory ┐
                                                │
cd backend ——————— Navigate to backend directory ┤——— Initialize Backend ┐
                                                │                          │
npm init -y ——————— Initialize Node.js project ┘                          │
                                                                           │
npm install json-server --save-dev ——————— Install json-server ───────────┤
                                                                           │
Include products and users arrays ——————— Add db.json at project root ——————— Create Data Store ┤——— Backend JSON Server Setup ——————— Setup Creation Process
                                                                           │
"scripts": { "start": "json-server --watch db.json --port 3001" } ——————— Define NPM Script in package.json ┤
                                                                           │
npm start ——————— Run Server ──────────────────────────────────────────────┤
                                                                           │
Visit http://localhost:3001/products ┐                                     │
                                      ┤——— Test Endpoints ─────────────────┤
Visit http://localhost:3001/users ───┘                                     │
                                                                           │
                                          Connect Frontend ────────────────┘
```